CEDAR HILL

HIGHLIGHTS

Sharing the spirit

Guest of honor, Santa Claus, thanks kids and WFAA's Pete Delkis for toys collected at Hillside Village during a live cut-in on Ch. 8. This year the generous people of Cedar Hill and the surrounding area doubled the number of toys collected last year.

Many children had a brighter Christmas this year, thanks to an amazing partnership between WFAA, Hillside Village shopping center, the City of Cedar Hill, CHSD and generous residents of this area.

Kristi Jackson, Marketing Director for Hillside Village Shopping Center said the turnout this year was much stronger than ever before. She credited competition between neighboring school districts for the record-setting toy total.

Santa made a lengthy visit, holding children and waving at shoppers. He joined WFAA Meteorologist Pete Delkis during commercial breaks throughout the evening of Dec. 4.

A highlight of the evening was when a Cedar Hill fire truck and police cruiser made noisy entrances with lights flashing to deliver hundreds of toys collected by city employees.

Dozens of youngsters got a chance to see inside the vehicles and interact with the first responders while volunteers unloaded the toys.

With five collection sites in Dallas-Fort Worth this year, the Santa's Helpers program was able to brighten Christmas for over 50,000 children.

Cedar Hill was the only non-studio collection site in Dallas County. The TV exposure during the evening showcased the generous hearts of those who are willing to serve others.

Choose Healthy Cedar Hill Positive changes start with us

With all the beautiful parks and open spaces, terrific trails, bike-friendly areas and a state-of-the-art Recreation Center, we have amazing infrastructure for a healthy community. Residents are invited to join the Parks & Recreation Department, with Neighborhood Services and other City departments, for Choose Healthy Cedar Hill (CHCH), the Mayor's Health and Wellness Initiative!

The goal of (CHCH) is to encourage community-wide healthy lifestyles, reducing obesity and heart diseases.

We want to be a healthy city! A healthy city means increasing physical activity among children and adults, taking advantage of our environment and facilities, increasing health education and

When the temperature drops below freezing watch for driving hazards like icy roads, especially bridges.

FM 1382 and Belt Line Road are managed by TxDOT and they are responsible for sanding those roadways. City of Cedar Hill crews sand some bridges, major intersections and areas for police and fire crews. Sorry, we don't do driveways.

And remember, to avoid pipe freezes:

- Protect outside faucets
- Turn off automatic sprinklers
- Leave cabinets under sinks open to allow heat in.

Cedar Hill Fire Department's 1924 American LaFrance engine was placed in service in 1955. Recently discovered, it is being restored and has already been in several parades. She is shown here in the Adolphus Children's Christmas parade in downtown Dallas, escorted by CHFD's LAFS Clown Troop. See more on page 4.

Showing servant leadership

Elias Sassoon, Cedar Hill Public Works Director, received the City's Leadership Excellence Award from City Manager Greg Porter at a recent City Council meeting. He was honored for consistently providing and displaying exceptional leadership.

Library makes a win/win out of late returns

The clever library staff, they have a plan to get their books, CDs and other items back while helping others.

Theresa Brooks, Circulation Coordinator said in the last two years their Food for Fines program has provided over 2,000 non-perishable items for the Cedar Hill Food Pantry. They're hoping to double that number this year.

How does it work? If you have an overdue item, even if it's really overdue, you can return it to the library with at least one canned good per overdue item (let your conscience be your guide) and all will be forgiven. You'll be able to check out more cool stuff.

Please take you items to the library before Jan. 31. If you have a question call 972.291.7323. Check out what's happening at the library at cedarhilltx.com/676/Library.

Cedar Hill Animal Control Officer Jeremy Randolph, center, was recognized at a recent City Council meeting by Tammy Miller, Manager of the Tri-City Animal Shelter, and Police Chief Steve Rhodes. Jeremy received the Texas Animal Control Assn.'s top award for outstanding services to the Animal Control Profession at their convention in November.

LaFrance draws a crowd

The 1924 American LaFrance was purchased from the Dallas Fire Department in 1955 and placed in service by the Cedar Hill Fire Department.

In the mid 1980's, it was decided over a handshake that the engine would be transferred back to Dallas to be kept in their Fire Museum.

Over the years it was almost lost from memory, but rumors persisted.

John Denison, Chris Bullard and Ron Osborn traveled to the Texas Fire Museum last year to inquire about the engine. A faded tarp was removed from an old engine in the back barn of the museum. Low and behold, the hood read "Cedar Hill Fire Department". The engine that was once rumored, had been located. There it sat in years of dust.

Tires were purchased by Fire Chief John

This classic 1924 LaSalle recently visited the Cedar Hill Government Center and attracted several for photos, including Angelica Morales from HR, Patty Bushart from Tourism, Lea Anne Edwards from Admin. and retiree Pat Bateman.

Ballard, and work began on the old engine. Cedar Hill fire fighters began a fund-raising campaign to restore it and worked countless volunteer hours to get the engine into running condition.

Exactly one year after it was found, the American LaFrance was driven to the 2015 9/11 Memorial Stair Climb. The engine also participated in the 2015 Country Day on the Hill Parade. The LaFrance was invited to participate in the 2015 televised Adolphus Children's Christmas Parade, and proudly represented Cedar Hill and the heritage of our firefighters..
