

CEDAR HILL HIGHLIGHTS

CEDAR HILL FIRE DEPARTMENT'S CLEMENTINE NAMED DOG OF THE YEAR

Every year, the ASPCA® (American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals®) honors animal heroes who have demonstrated extraordinary efforts, as well as individuals who have shown outstanding commitment to assisting at-risk animals.

Clementine of Cedar Hill's Fire Department's Fire Station #212 will be receiving the ASPCA Dog of the Year Award, which is given to a dog who demonstrates outstanding heroism in service to humans.

Clementine's award tells the story of a dog evacuated from Louisiana in May 2021, three months before Hurricane Ida hit. She ended up 500 miles away at the Tri-City Animal Shelter.

Clementine was adopted twice but returned each time because of her challenges adapting to her adopted families' lifestyles and other pets. The firefighters of Station #212 adopted Clementine in October 2021 and have never looked back.

The firefighters say Clementine is a natural fire dog. She loves riding on a fire truck and is always ready to comfort them in times of stress.
